

Ashland University

Annual Security Report

2023

The safety and security of all guests and members of our campus community are extremely important to us at Ashland University. The Ashland Theological Seminary, located at 910 Center Street in Ashland is considered part of the Ashland University main campus for this report. With the coordinated efforts of other departments, the Ashland University Safety Services Department is committed to our goal of providing a safe and secure environment for students, faculty and staff so that all may work toward their desired objectives. While Ashland University, located in the rural community of Ashland, is fortunate to be in an area that enjoys a relatively low crime rate, we encourage guests and members of the campus community to become involved and take responsibility for their own safety and the safety of others. As crime can happen anywhere, we encourage those within the campus community to not be complacent with their safety.

Safety Services Department

The Ashland University Safety Services Department is a support services department charged with enforcing Ashland University policies and maintaining a safe and secure environment for the campus community. A director, administrative assistant, dispatchers and officers staff the department, which reports to the Vice President for Student Affairs. Located on the first floor in the Hawkins-Conard Student Center, the Safety Services department operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Around-the-clock service is provided by a dispatcher and at least one uniformed, unarmed officer patrolling campus. During the holiday breaks, the Safety Services department may use Student Affairs staff, or a contracted agency, in place of officers to patrol the residential units and campus. The director of Safety Services employs information from campus and non-campus resources in preparing the annual security report.

Safety Services officers are first responders to medical, fire, criminal and other emergencies on campus and are the primary contact for general assistance service calls. Safety Services officers not only enforce university policies, they may aid the Ashland City Police in the enforcement of state and local statutes for incidents that may occur on campus. Safety Services officers do not have arrest authority. Ashland University Safety Services may notify the Ashland City Police Department for any on campus incident as the campus is within the jurisdiction of the Ashland City Police. Persons found to be in violation of University policies and/or state and local laws will be processed thru Safety Services and, if necessary, the Ashland City police. While the department does not have a written memorandum of understanding with the Ashland City Police Department, it does encourage all victims of any crime on campus to report crimes to the city police and will assist in the process.

Officers are trained in emergency first-aid and CPR. They also participate in an ongoing program of in-service and on-the-job training including, but not limited to, emergency response (including fire response) and patrol duties. Patrol staff also enforces traffic and parking regulations, conduct crime investigations and handle routine service calls. While Safety Services responds to all types of emergency situations on campus, we also provide a variety of other services to the campus community, including:

- Registration and distribution of parking permits
- Response to reports of crime or criminal behavior
- Escort service – 24 hours a day
- Lost and found repository
- Assist motorist with vehicle lockouts and jumpstarts
- Assist students locked out of their room/residence hall
- Monitor electronic building access status
- Routine safety/security patrol of campus, including residence halls
- Crime prevention programing/seminars (upon request)

Reporting Emergencies/Crime

The Safety Services Department is available 24 hours a day to respond to crime reports and emergency and non-emergency service calls. For emergency services the campus community is encouraged to use 911 from an on-campus phone. 911 calls from an on-campus phone are routed directly to the AU Safety Services office and who can then route the call to the Ashland County 911 operator. By routing on campus 911 calls thru the Safety Services office, the AU dispatcher can relay to the county operator the specific location of the call. 911 calls from cell phones will bypass the AU Safety Services department.

Ashland University has also contracted with a vendor (911Cellular) to provide members of the campus community with a free downloadable app so users can contact Ashland University Safety Services, or the local 911 service, through the app. The app can also be used for emergency notification to users as well as users sending tips to the Ashland University Safety Services Department. Additional means of contact to AU Safety Services include:

- e-mail AU Safety Services at security@ashland.edu or dispatcher@ashland.edu
- service window in the Hawkins-Conard Student Center (open 24 hours a day)
- (419) 207-5555
- 5555 from an on-campus phone
- Emergency “blue light” phones on campus

The department accepts confidential reports and will employ every effort to maintain confidentiality. If, however, there is an immediate threat to self or others; the AU dispatcher will notify other campus resources (and possibly the local police and/or fire departments) for emergency response. Reports of a felony crime will also be directly forwarded to the Ashland City Police. Confidential reports by professional counselors, health care providers, attorneys and clergy for the purpose of providing a timely warning to the campus community and statistical purposes should be directed to the AU Safety Services department. Any Ashland University employee in receipt of information involving a crime on campus shall report that information to the AU Safety Services department. In the event of an emergency where disclosure of personally identifiable information is necessary to prevent further, or future, harm to an individual and/or members of the campus community, information will be disseminated to appropriate parties.

Access to Campus Facilities

While Ashland University is a private institution, administrative, academic and general use buildings are open to the public during normal business hours and for evening classes and other events. The hour a facility is open to the public is dependent on academic and administrative schedules, scheduled events (i.e. athletic, concerts, etc.), time of the year, lab access needs and other factors.

Living on Campus

The residential community is made up of approximately 1,400 students living in the residence halls, on-campus fraternity houses, senior apartments, and the College Avenue apartments. The Residence Life office administers staffing for all the residential facilities. Facility maintenance issues should be reported to the Facilities Management and Planning office. Maintenance issues compromising building security should be immediately brought to the attention of the Safety Services office if the Facilities Maintenance and Planning office is closed.

The main exterior doors to the residence halls (excluding the fraternities and College Ave. apts.) and senior apartment buildings are secured by an electronic security system monitored by Safety Services. When locked, access to these residence facilities is restricted to persons with a coded ID card. The fraternity houses entry doors are locked and can be opened with the resident's key. There is no common hallway entry for the College Avenue Apartments and the resident's key will open the apartment entry door. Students can play a significant role in ensuring the security of their building by locking first floor windows and doors. While the access system is effective, persons propping open doors or allowing unauthorized persons into the building can compromise building security. The Safety Services department does monitor the system for propped doors and responds when alerted. The residence life staff and Safety Services officers provide patrols in the residence halls. Individual room doors are secured with a key issued to the residents of that room. Residents are to immediately call Safety Services if a key or ID access card is lost or stolen. Resident students who report a lost or stolen ID card will be issued a temporary card allowing access to their residence hall and the lost or stolen cards access will be immediately voided. Keys reported lost or stolen will have the cores replaced and new keys issued to the residents of the room. Safety Services also monitors the fire alarms for the residence halls. Residents are obligated to adhere to the residence life policies in the Student Handbook.

Resident students with physical restrictions should notify Safety Services of their restriction. In order to provide an even more effective response, prior notification of any pre-existing medical condition that may warrant special consideration should be made to the Safety Services department before moving into the residence hall.

Off-campus housing includes apartments, private homes and individual rooms in private homes. Ashland University does not provide supervision or security services for off-campus housing.

Living off Campus

For students living off-campus, Ashland University reserves the right to review and hold students accountable whose behavior has a negative impact on their neighbors and where this behavior has a negative impact on the integrity of the University. The Vice President for Student Affairs, or his/her designate, will investigate complaints regarding off-campus incidents for possible on campus judicial action by the University. Neighbors who have been inconvenienced, annoyed or alarmed by activity from a residence where Ashland University students own or lease property can initiate an on-campus judicial proceeding by filing a complaint with the Student Affairs office. Ashland University does not have any non-campus student organizations.

Campus Alerts/Emergencies

When there is no immediate threat to the safety of the campus community, yet notification of security/safety concerns are warranted (i.e. patterns of theft) an “Advisory” may be issued with the incident summary. Safety Services may also post paper bulletins in conspicuous locations (i.e. notices in residence halls, library, etc.). In all situations involving an advisory or alert (timely warning), the AU Safety Services department is considered the primary responder and reports made for the purpose of issuing an “Advisory”, or “Alert” (or Timely Warning), should be made with the AU Safety Services department.

In situations where there may be an immediate threat to the campus community, the AU Safety Services department will initiate without delay (upon confirmation of a threat and if doing so does not compromise efforts to contain an emergency) security/safety “Alerts”, or “Timely Warnings”, using the following resources:

Text Messaging/Voicemail

The AU Safety Services department can issue text messages to members of the campus community in the event a timely warning, or “Alert” is warranted. Text messaging is not used for event announcements and other marketing information. The free app to receive alerts can be downloaded on your smart phone by going to your app store on your smart phone. For iPhone users type in Campus Shield, to download and choose “Ashland University” as your download option and install. Android users can choose Campus Shield from the play store to get the free app. Text campus alerts are not the only feature of the app. Additional features include campus resource information, being able to provide real time safety and security tips to the Safety Services office and an emergency button that will allow the user to directly contact 911 or the Ashland University Safety Services Department.

Public Broadcast & Internal Intercoms

Two public address speakers (horns) are located on the main campus. These horns allow broadcasted weather sirens as well as voice and customized messages. The AU Safety Services have access to use this system in the event a security/safety alert is warranted.

Radio/TV Messages

Ashland University may also use local and/or regional media outlets to broadcast emergency information. This resource would be initiated through the AU Public Relations office.

Electronic Message Boards/Web Page

Emergency alerts can be displayed on electronic message boards throughout campus. An outside message board is located near the Hawkins-Conard Student Center. Electronic displays are located in the lobbies of several campus buildings. Alerts may also be posted to the AU web page at <http://www.ashland.edu>. The web alerts can be posted by the AU Safety Services, Public Relations or the Information Technology office.

Depending on the circumstances, AU Safety Services and Public Relations may use any one (or all) available resources to issue alerts. Members of the campus community are encouraged to monitor the above resources for instructions regarding their response.

Preparedness

The Ashland University Emergency Operations Plan was established to facilitate an effective response to emergency situations, or events, that impact the campus community. Administration of the plan is a collaborative effort of the AU Compliance Committee and the AU President's Cabinet. The plan addresses preparedness, response and recovery. The plan is formally reviewed each year. Reviews may be by an internal review, tabletop, functional, or a full exercise. Exercises may be incorporated with the Ashland County emergency response since the county will assume command during a regional emergency. Unless notification would compromise efforts to contain an emergency, or instructed by local law enforcement, Ashland University will employ AU available resources to notify the campus community of an immediate threat or dangerous situation (see above resources). The primary Incident Commander for AU Emergency Operations is the Vice President of Facilities Management and Planning.

Evacuations/Shelter-in-Place

After reviewing the threat to the campus community, the Ashland University Incident Commander may issue an order of evacuation of the campus. In the event of a regional emergency, an AU representative may be dispatched to the Ashland County Emergency Operations Center so proper channels of communication are established. Evacuation procedures will vary depending on the scope of the emergency (i.e. partial or full evacuation). In some situations, "shelter-in-place" may be the most appropriate response to an emergency. Instructions regarding the response members of the campus community should take will be communicated using the methods noted above. The notices will originate from the AU Safety Services department under the direction of the Incident Commander.

If a building(s) evacuation is issued, instructions will be provided as to the location of the assembly area for building occupants. If instructed to evacuate (and time permits) back up critical data secure your area and lock doors behind you (if safe to do so). For regional emergencies that require an evacuation of the entire campus, members of the campus community who have access to a vehicle are encouraged assist others who may not have transportation. Those without transportation will be instructed to locate to an assembly location to await further instructions.

Crime Logs

Crime log entries summarizing crimes and policy violations reported to the AU Safety Services department are available on the Ashland University website <https://www.ashland.edu/student-affairs/health-safety-title-ix/safety-services/crime-logs>. To receive a paper copy of the report, please call the AU Safety Services department at (419) 207-5555, or e-mail a request to security@ashland.edu.

Crime Prevention

The Ashland University Safety Services department encourages members of the campus community to take an active role in their safety and the safety of others. Important considerations include: awareness, taking active measures to prevent crime, knowledge of reporting safety/security issues and knowing what to do in emergency situations. The Safety Services department is available to offer safety programs to the campus community upon request. To schedule a program, call the Director of Safety Services at (419) 207-5555, or e-mail a request to security@ashland.edu.

Just because there is a relatively low crime rate in Ashland, don't become complacent as crime can happen anywhere at any time. Immediately report suspicious or unusual activity to the AU Safety Services department. Oftentimes crimes could have been prevented if someone would have notified proper authorities in advance. We recommend programming our off-campus number into your cell phone so it's readily accessible. Please contact the AU Safety Services department for any questions or guidance regarding personal safety. Important personal safety tips include:

- Always lock your room door (especially when you are not in the room)
- Never allow anyone you don't know follow you into your residence facility i.e. "tailgating"
- If you consume alcohol, drink responsibly and don't allow yourself (or friends) to get into unsafe situations
- Don't walk alone at night and be alert. The Safety Services department provides escorts as requested
- Use the FriendWatch feature on the free downloadable app when going out
- Don't leave valuables unattended and don't have access codes where others can see them
- Obey safety policies (i.e. fire regulations)
- Become familiar with emergency procedures (i.e. building evacuation routes, tornado shelters, emergency notification, emergency response and recovery, reporting procedures, etc.)

Emergency phones are strategically located around the exterior of campus. They are easily identified by the blue light above the phone. Emergency phones are also available in lobby areas of some campus buildings. Most residence facilities also have phones by the entrances that are available from the outside of the building. The Safety Services department works with the Facilities Management and Planning department to help maintain adequate exterior lighting. Safety and security considerations are employed in the maintenance of both the facilities and the landscaping. Members of the campus community are encouraged to report any maintenance issues to the Facilities Management and Planning staff. This can be done by contacting them directly, notifying the Safety Services department or contacting a residence hall staff member.

Crime Statistics

The Safety Services department compiles the annual crime statistics that are included in this report. The information contained in this report is available on-line by visiting the Ashland University website at <https://www.ashland.edu/safety-service-resources#h2-7>. Should you wish to receive a printed copy, please contact the Ashland University Safety Services Department. The phone number from off-campus is (419) 207-5555. The e-mail address is security@ashland.edu and the mailing address is 401 College Ave., Ashland, OH 44805. The statistical information in this report is acquired from various sources, including: Safety Services department, Ashland City Police Department, Judicial Affairs office, Student Affairs office and any other university official who has a significant responsibility for student and campus activities. The department accepts confidential reports, for statistical reporting purposes, from health and pastoral counselors and the Ashland University Psychological & Counseling Services Office. A request for statistical information is made to these offices; however, those departments are not required by law to provide statistics for the compliance document. Statistics do not include any crimes against students traveling abroad or at an off-campus location (i.e. student teaching assignments and/or foreign studies). The classification of reported crimes is based on the definitions in the Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook published by the Department of Justice. Collection and publication of these statistics is required by the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act.

Hate Crimes

Hate crimes are where the victim is intentionally selected based on his or her actual or perceived race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, ethnicity, disability, national origin, or gender identity. Ashland University must report any of the above listed crimes, as well as vandalism, intimidation, larceny/theft, simple assault and any other crime involving bodily injury where bias is a motivating factor. If you believe you have experienced, or witnessed, a hate crime you may report it to the Ashland University Safety Services office at (419) 207-5555 or e mail dispatcher@ashland.edu.

Definitions of Geographical Categories

Non-Campus Any building or property owned or controlled by student organizations recognized by the school. Also includes any building or property controlled by the university that is not within the same reasonably contiguous area. Ashland University owns and maintains the fraternity houses, so these facilities are considered "on-campus".

Non-Campus Facility Ashland University does not have any non-campus facilities that satisfy Clery definitions. Fraternity houses are owned and operated by the University and are included in the reported statistics

On-Campus Includes any building or property owned or controlled by an institution within the same reasonably contiguous geographic area and used by the institution in direct support of (or in) a manner related to the institution's educational purposes.

Public Property An area that is within the same reasonably contiguous geographic area of the institution, or is adjacent to a facility owned or controlled by the institution. This includes sidewalks and streets.

Residential Facility A residential facility owned and under direct control of Ashland University. All fraternity houses are owned by Ashland University.

Definitions

Dating Violence Violence committed by a person who is or has been in a romantic or intimate relationship with the victim.

Domestic Violence A felony or misdemeanor crime of violence committed by a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim. By a person with whom the victim shares a child in common. By a person who is cohabitating, or has cohabitated with the victim as a spouse or intimate partner. By a person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction in which the crime occurred. By a person against an adult or youth victim who is protected from that person's acts under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction in which the crime of violence occurred.

Stalking A course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to fear for his, hers, or others' safety, or to suffer substantial emotional distress. No person by engaging in a pattern of conduct shall knowingly cause another person to believe that the offender will cause physical harm to the other person or cause mental distress to the other person. No person, through the use of any electronic method of remotely transferring information, including, but not limited to, any computer, computer network, computer program, or computer system, shall post a message with the purpose to urge or incite another to commit a violation of division of this section.

For a comprehensive review of crime definitions, please refer to the FBI Uniform Crime Reporting program and/or the Ohio Revised Code.

Missing Student

Policy:

Persons wishing to report a student missing should do so with the Ashland University Safety Services department. Reporting persons includes, but is not limited to: parents, guardians, family members and friends. All Ashland University employees who are informed of a missing student are also required to immediately notify the Ashland University Safety Services Department.

Ashland University Safety Services will immediately notify the Vice President for Student Affairs and begin to investigate the report of a missing student. If the student provided an emergency contact for this purpose, Safety Services or the Vice President for Student Affairs (or his/her designate) is required to make contact with the designated contact no later than 24 hours after the student has been determined to be missing. For reporting purposes, it is not necessary for a concerned individual to wait 24 hours to report a student missing. For students under the age of 18 (and not emancipated), Ashland University is required to notify a custodial parent or guardian no later than 24 hours after the student has been determined to be missing. Upon determination that a student is missing, the Ashland University Safety Services department also will notify the Ashland City Police.

Resident students can register confidential contact information with the AU Residence Life office. Students have the option to identify an individual (ideally a parent(s) or family member) that Ashland University may contact no later than 24 hours after the time the student is determined missing.

Procedures:

Any report of a missing student should be immediately reported to the Ashland University Safety Services department. When a student is reported missing, the AU Safety Services department will:

- Refer to the Missing Persons section of the Emergency Operations Plan.
- Notify the Vice President for Student Affairs.
- Initiate an investigation to determine the status of the missing individual. Safety Services will employ available AU resources to investigate the students' status. This will include, but is not limited to: residence life staff, academic advisors, AU Counseling Services, known associates, employers, etc.
- Make a determination as to the status of the missing student.
- Safety Services or the Vice President for Student Affairs will notify the identified emergency contact no later than 24 hours after determining the students' status as missing. In the event the missing student is under 18 years of age (and not emancipated), a custodial parent(s) or guardian will be notified.
- Ashland University Safety Services will notify the Ashland City Police no more than 24 hours upon confirmation as to the students status as missing.
- Emergency communications to the campus community and outside resources will be coordinated by the Vice President for Student Affairs and AU Public Relations.

Policies

(Drug, Alcohol, Violence)

Ashland University upholds the applicable drug laws that relate to controlled substances and prohibits the use, possession, sale and distribution of illegal drugs by students, guests, faculty and staff. With the exception of the select campus residential units, students are not permitted to consume alcohol on Ashland University property. Residents of the select campus residential units where alcohol is permitted (and their guests over the age of 21) may consume alcohol in the confines of their apartment/room provided they are adhering to applicable policies. Students found in violation of the drug or alcohol policy will be accountable for their actions as prescribed in the Student Handbook. For further information regarding the drug and alcohol policies for students, faculty and staff, please refer to the Student Handbook and/or the Personnel Policy Handbook. Substance abuse programs are available by contacting one of the listed resources in this section.

In incidents involving the use, sale, possession or distribution of drugs, the Ashland City Police will be summoned by the Safety Services Department to make initial contact along with the responding AU Officers. For incidents involving alcohol, the police may be summoned to assist AU Officers in certain circumstances. In most cases, the Ashland University Safety Services officers process incidents involving alcohol violations.

The Student Health Center and the Counseling Office provide assessment and assistance to students. Oftentimes students are referred to these resources as a condition of their judicial sanctions. Students with drug or alcohol related issues are encouraged to contact these offices for confidential assessment and counseling. If the need for additional services is indicated, further assessment/treatment is provided in cooperation with community resources. Ashland University also sponsors peer education programs regarding issues involving substance abuse. This program is under the direction of the Ashland University Health Educator and the Student Health Center.

If you recognize that you or one of your friends may need help with issues regarding drugs and/or alcohol, please refer to one of the departments or agencies listed below. If you wish to remain anonymous in referring a friend or neighbor, you may do so. The departments or agencies listed below are resources for assistance; they may not be an agency or department that must report information to the Safety Services Department for statistics to be included in the annual report.

Domestic violence, dating violence and/or stalking are Level I policy violations as noted in the Ashland University Student Handbook. Depending on the circumstances of each reported incident, there could be a number of Level I violations that the reported suspect could be charged with. Please refer to the Ashland University Student Handbook for a more comprehensive description of the specific policies. Also, in the handbook is the description for internal procedures for cases involving these types of incidents.

Intimate partner violence, threats, emotional and psychological abuse are also reportable incidents that are Level I policy violations. Judicial proceedings regarding rights of the victim and accused, outcomes of said proceedings, appeal process and notification to the parties involved for domestic and dating violence and/or stalking are the same as those for sexual assaults. Incidents of this nature should immediately be reported to the AU Safety Services office, the AU Counseling office, Human Resources, Residence Life, AU Health Center, or any AU official responsible for reporting these incidents. The victim is also encouraged to report these types of incidents to the local police. The AU Safety Services office may assist the victim in this regard. Bystanders who have knowledge of or who have witnessed incidents of dating/domestic violence or stalking are encouraged to report the information to the resources mentioned above.

Wellness

Education & Awareness

Ashland University is committed to providing educational programs for students and campus organizations to promote awareness and prevention of sexual assaults. Resources for information on dating/domestic dating violence and stalking are also available by contacting the AU Counseling Services. Educational programs addressing drug and alcohol awareness are also made available by Ashland University. The frequency and types of programs addressing wellness topics such as drug and alcohol awareness and sexual assault awareness vary year to year and are sponsored and scheduled by various departments on campus. Resources available to address wellness issues for the campus community are listed below. To schedule a program, please contact one of the resources. Programming for the campus community include: Building a Community of Respect presented to incoming first year students each August, Faculty College programs for faculty available at the beginning of the semester, new employee orientation (as scheduled by H.R.), Domestic Abuse Forum hosted by Delta Zeta and Safe Haven, Resident Assistant (bystander training) and presentations to athletes and coaches. The Ashland University Title IX Committee, the Ashland Center for Nonviolence, and various student organizations sponsor and/or host events throughout the academic year.

The Student Health Center and the Counseling Office provide assessment and assistance to students. Oftentimes students are referred to these resources as a condition of their judicial sanctions. Students with drug or alcohol related issues are encouraged to contact one of these offices for confidential assessment and counseling. If you recognize that you or one of your friends may need help with issues regarding drugs and/or alcohol (or sexual abuse issues), please refer to one of the listed departments or agencies.

Campus Sex Crime Prevention Act

The Campus Sex Crime Prevention Act requires sex offenders to provide notice to each institution of higher education at which the person is employed or enrolled. Because the Ashland University main campus and Theological Seminary are within the jurisdiction of the Ashland County Sheriff’s Department, the Ashland County Sheriff’s Department should be the notifying agency of any registered sex offenders who are currently enrolled students or employees. The AU Safety Services department also reviews the Ashland County Sheriff’s website to see if any registered sex offenders’ addresses is on or directly adjacent to Ashland University property. In Ashland County, information on registered sex offenders is available on the Ashland County Sheriff’s website at <http://www.ashlandcounty.org/sheriff/>. Ohio’s ESCORN website (<http://ohio.esorn.net/ashland>) provides links to databases of registered sex offenders for all Ohio counties.

Upon notification to the AU Safety Services department of a registered sex offender on or directly adjacent to campus, the information will be passed on to the Vice President for Student Affairs. The Vice President for Student Affairs will determine if an advisory or alert is warranted.

Sexual Assault/Misconduct

Ashland University strives to create a community that promotes personal growth and wellbeing. Sex offenses are illegal, unacceptable and will not be tolerated by the University. Incidents of sexual assault include both forcible and non-forcible offenses. Prohibited offences include crimes involving dating and domestic violence, stalking and sexual assaults. Upon written request Ashland University will disclose to the alleged victim of a crime of violence or non-forcible sex offense, the report on the results of any disciplinary proceedings conducted by Ashland University.

Three very important factors that may help prevent you or a friend from becoming a victim of a sexual assault involve; 1) be an active bystander 2) alcohol and 3) notification to others in the event of an incident involving sexual misconduct or assault (including date rape). For more detailed information on bystander intervention and consent, please refer to the Ashland University Title IX webpage at www.ashland.edu.

All members of the Ashland Community are encouraged to take responsibility for preventing and addressing sexual misconduct within our community. To help enhance your safety and the safety of your friends, commit to be an active bystander by taking the following steps:

- Notice the situation...be aware of your surroundings
- Interpret it as a problem...do you recognize that someone needs help
- Feel responsible to act...see yourself as being part of the solution to help
- Know what to do...educate yourself on what to do
- Intervene safely...take action but keep yourself safe

You can also enhance your safety and the safety of others when you out with friends by:

- Having a plan...formulate a plan regarding personal safety with friends before you go out
- Go out together...go out as a group and don't allow friends to become separated, especially if they are impaired or unfamiliar with the parties involved
- Watch out for others...if you are walking at night with friends and notice a person walking by themselves in the same direction, ask them to join you so they don't have to walk alone
- Diffuse the situation...if you see a friend coming on too strong to someone who may be too impaired to give proper consent; interrupt, distract, or redirect the situation. If you are too embarrassed or shy to speak out, get someone to step in.
- Trust your instincts...if a situation doesn't seem right to you, trust your instincts and remove yourself from the situation, or assist a friend who may not recognize the situation
- Take care of each other

Alcohol can be a factor in that it can contribute to aggression by the perpetrator or diminished cognitive abilities on your part. Date rape drugs can be placed in any drink, not just alcohol. Do not drink a beverage where you don't know the source, who is serving you or are suspicious of the circumstances. If Ashland University is not made aware of an incident, we can't take proper steps to help prevent a future incident. Reporting a crime or incident is a separate step from prosecuting. Any person who believes they have been a victim of any sexual assault or misconduct or have information regarding a sexual assault are encouraged to report the incident to University officials or law enforcement officials, or both.

Intervention

Ashland University is committed to providing both a sensitive and effective response to an incident of this nature. Any of the listed resources will help the victim seek any medical, civil and/or counseling services. Victims of a sexual assault are strongly encouraged to seek immediate medical attention so that physical evidence can be preserved, should the victim choose to prosecute. An assault can be reported without initiating an investigation or prosecuting the alleged attacker. While it is the victims' option to (or not to) seek assistance from law enforcement and campus authorities, the University encourages persons who have been sexually assaulted to report the assault, seek assistance and pursue criminal and on campus judicial action for not only their protection, but the entire campus community. Victims should report the assault to the AU Safety Services Department.

The Safety Services department can provide transportation to the hospital and/or the local police department and can assist the victim in notifying proper civil and AU administrative authorities, should the victim choose to do so. With the exception of the AU Counseling Services office, health and pastoral counselors, all AU employees are required to contact to Safety Services department. Confidentiality will be maintained to the extent possible, however, cannot be guaranteed. The AU Safety Services Department may notify the Ashland City Police of any reported sexual assault on campus. If the victim chooses to remain anonymous, the AU Safety Services department will report the incident without disclosing personal identifying information. Ashland University may impose an immediate no-contact restriction should the victim choose to do so. Victims are also encouraged, but not required to; pursue a civil protection order issued by the Ashland County Court. Ashland University will assist the victim in working with the civil authorities when requested.

If necessary, the Safety Services Department will notify those within the campus community of any known threats to their safety. Reasonable and immediate steps will be initiated to preserve the physical and emotional wellbeing of the victim. The victim will be presented the opportunity to change academic and living arrangements after an alleged sexual assault incident, providing changes are reasonably available. If the subject allegedly responsible for a sexual assault is identified, immediate sanctions may be instituted upon the alleged subject. These sanctions could range from, restriction from a residence hall(s) to an interim suspension (pending the outcome of an on-campus judicial). For further information regarding on-campus disciplinary procedures for this type of offense and possible sanctions imposed by the University, please refer to the Student Handbook. Both the accused and the accuser will be informed of the outcome of the campus disciplinary proceedings (in writing and as simultaneously as possible). Both parties will also be instructed on the appeal process and any changes to the results before it becomes final. The accuser and the accused are entitled to the same opportunities to have others present during campus disciplinary proceedings.

Harassment Free Environment

Ashland University promotes a productive campus environment and will not tolerate conduct by any member of the campus community that harasses another employee or student, disrupts or interferes with another, or creates an intimidating, offensive or hostile environment. This includes threatening behavior, violent actions, and sexual harassment. Students who feel they are the target of any type of harassment should immediately report the situation to the Vice President for Student Affairs. Employees are to contact the Director of Human Resources. Please refer to the Harassment Free Policy in the Student Handbook and/or the Employee Handbook for further information. Students are protected under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act and Title IX of the Education amendments.

Fire Safety

Ashland University Safety Services works with the AU Compliance Committee, Facilities Management and Planning and Residence Life departments to provide prevention and emergency response protocol for AU. Each year the Residence Life office coordinates (with the Life/Safety member of the facilities staff) one scheduled fire alarm exercise each semester (fall and spring) while the students are on campus. Students who fail to evacuate a building during an alarm are in violation of the safety policy. Fire safety is incorporated into the residence life staff training at the beginning of each year. Training includes building occupant evacuation and extinguisher use. Residents in the College Avenue apartments and senior apartments do not participate in any drills. Ashland University has on staff a Life Safety Technician who maintains the security and fire systems in the residence halls and other campus buildings. The Life Safety Technician conducts two scheduled fire system safety inspections of the residence facilities each year. The responding fire department for AU is the Ashland City Fire Department. When buildings are renovated, updating fire systems to current requirements are an important consideration.

AU has a policy of no open flames in any of the residence facilities and smoking is not permitted in any campus building. All electrical appliances must be Underwriter Laboratory (UL) approved and in good working condition. Unapproved items such as: electric blankets, hot plates, live Christmas trees, etc. are against the residence life safety policy. Residents found to be using these items are in violation of the safety policy. Please refer to the student handbook for a more comprehensive description <http://www1.ashland.edu/student-affairs/health-safety/safety-services>. In the residence facilities there are emergency information placards posted in conspicuous locations and on the back of the doors to resident's rooms. To request a replacement placard, please notify the Director of Environmental Health & Safety in the Facilities Management and Planning department. Fire statistics are maintained by the Ashland University Director of Safety Services. All campus fires are to be reported to the AU Safety Services department. Ashland University owns and maintains separate residence facilities rented to non-students. These facilities are under the direct control of the AU Business Affairs office and are not included in the following tables.

Students are to assume all alarms are an actual emergency and are expected to evacuate the building thru all marked egress doors. Use of elevators is not permitted during an evacuation. Students who fail to evacuate a residence facility during a drill may be processed as a judicial referral for violating a health and safety policy. Resident students with physical restrictions should notify Safety Services of their restriction. In order to provide an even more effective response, prior notification of any pre-existing medical condition that may warrant special consideration should be made to the Safety Services department before moving into the residence hall. AU Safety Services will notify the responding fire department personnel of residents with disclosed special needs. At the start of the fall semester, the Safety Services department also requests information from the Classroom Support Services department regarding resident students with special needs who may require assistance in emergency situations. Tampering with any fire alarm, or suppression system, is a safety policy violation and the responsible party (if identified) will be held accountable.

There are no pull stations, sprinkler systems, or fire alarm panels in residences that are listed as Other Campus Housing. These are primarily private residences that Ashland University purchased and are housing students and other Ashland University guests and employees. The houses do have smoke detectors and fire extinguishers.
