ABOUT THE COURSE

BUS 210, first 7 weeks of the spring semester, provides students with an immersive examination of finance and accounting practices in Japan, with Tokyo serving as the primary learning environment. The course explores Japanese financial institutions, accounting standards, corporate governance, and managerial decision-making within a global context. Emphasis is placed on how culture, regulation, and institutional frameworks influence financial reporting and financial strategy. The course with tour meets the CCI requirement.

PROGRAM COST: $4,824

First 20 COBE majors get a $500 COBE grant

INCLUDED: Airfare, hotel accommodations (double rooms), daily breakfasts, 2 lunches, and 2 dinners, guides, tips, admission to sites listed as included on the itinerary, in-country transportation, and international health insurance.
